

INNEWSOURCE INTERVIEWS WITH EXPERTS:

---

SPENCER HEY

Faculty Member, Harvard Center for Bioethics; Research Fellow, Division of Pharmacoepidemiology and Pharmacoeconomics, Brigham and Women's Hospital

“Dr. Hey works on ethical, policy, and methodological issues at the intersection of philosophy of science and biomedical research ethics ...”

Bio: <https://bioethics.hms.harvard.edu/person/faculty-members/spencer-hey>

All quotes checked against recorded 40-minute phone interview on March 25, 2019.

---

STACEY SPRINGS

Research Integrity Officer, Harvard University

Bio: <https://bioethics.hms.harvard.edu/person/fellowship-alumni/stacey-springs>

All quotes checked against recorded 82-minute phone interview on March 27, 2019.

---

AMY CARUSO BROWN

MD, MSc, MSCS, is an Assistant Professor of Bioethics and Humanities and Pediatrics at SUNY Upstate Medical University

“Dr. Caruso Brown is the co-director of Patients to Populations: Ethics, Law and Population Health, a required course for first-year medical students, and also teaches in the Center's Physicians and Social Responsibility elective courses and in the Clinical Bioethics Clerkship for third-year medical students. She serves on the College of Medicine Curriculum Committee and on the Upstate Institutional Review Board.”

Bio: http://www.upstate.edu/bioethics/faculty-staff/fac\_brown.php

All quotes checked against recorded 38-minute phone interview on March 27, 2019.

---

MICHAEL CAROME

*Director, Health Research Group, Public Citizen
OHRP associate director for regulatory affairs*

“Carome is an expert on issues of drug and medical device safety, pharmacy compounding, Food and Drug Administration oversight, healthcare policy, and the protection of human research subjects.”

Bio: <https://www.citizen.org/about/michael-carome-md>

All quotes checked against recorded 56-minute phone interview on March 26, 2019.

---

KYLE GALBRAITH

*Ethics, Patient Experience - Piedmont Athens Regional Medical Center
Research Integrity Officer, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign*

“Ethicist and specialist in the protection of human participants in research, with a strong background in teaching research ethics and research integrity in graduate science education and continuing education programs. Former manager of Human Subject Protection at the Carle Foundation.”

Bio: <https://www.documentcloud.org/documents/5747188-Speakers-Biographies-and-Disclosures.html#document/p2/a483763>

All quotes checked against recorded 25-minute phone interview on March 28, 2019.